Part Three: The Big Finale

The Border

The book finale is full of excitement and surprises, including the desperate race across the Atlantic Ocean burning their own ship for fuel, Fogg's wrongful detention in jail, the magical realization that they have gained a day travelling with the sun, and Fogg's dramatic last second appearance in the Reform Club, to claim his win.

However, the 20,000 pound wager is not Fogg's biggest win in this journey, but meeting Aouda, who becomes his wife and brings him joy and happiness.

The grand finale to our shawl matches the excitement and fun of the book ending, with plenty of romance, and a chance to make it as flamboyant and ornate as your heart desires. After many months of hard work and dedication, you will have a true showstopper of a shawl.

"Truly, would you not for less than that make the tour around the world?"
~ Jules Verne.

Technical Notes

Border Construction

The border is integral to the shawl, the lace pattern flowing from the previous patterns. The increases at the edges now give room to a separate motif that forms the corner.

The corner has a separate chart. The yellow stitch on R1 marks correspond to the "rib stitch" we have carried all through the main body of the shawl.

The sides each have three charts: the Right, Center and Left charts. The Right and Left charts are almost identical to the Center chart, but for minor details in the first 2 and last column respectively, to and they flank the corner charts. The Center chart forms the main lace pattern.

The stitch count varies from row to row quite widely, though the pattern alignment is easy to follow once it is established. Markers will be moved whenever a multiple decrease is next to them.

You may continue to use the larger size needles you were using for USA2.

Stitch Glossary

- Double decreases have been discussed previously. Please note that all three types of double decreases (k3tog, sl1 k2tog psso, and cdd) are used here and they are not interchangeable. If you need a quick refresher, check http://community.knitpicks.com/notes/Decrease_-_Double_Decreases
- Single increase: marked as a "y" shaped symbol, I recommend that you work this as a kf&b but you can of course use a different method.
- Central double increase: K into the back of the stitch, then into the front. Lift the strand that runs between the two stitches and knit into it. A good video demo of this stitch can be found at: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=l1qYe81lAT8
  I personally find this method awkward, so I have used an alternate: First, lift the back loop of the stitch below, knit into it, and drop it then kf&b in the stitch on the needle. The results are mostly the same.

- Central fivefold decrease: to give this a "central decrease" appearance, work this as follows: slip the first three stitches as if to k3tog, k2tog, pass the three slipped stitches over together. Think of this as a CDD, but with more stitches.

Embellishments

You have two options for embellishments:

- Nupps (marked in the charts as blue "infinity" symbols), worked in the usual manner. They can be substituted for beads, or worked as plain knit stitches
- Beads. Besides the option to substitute nupps for beads, there are some optional beads that are marked in the chart with pink asterisk symbols. They cannot be worked as nupps. If you do not want to add beads there, work these as k-tbl instead.

There are many combinations and permutations of these options, from working all the embellishments as charted ("baroque" option), to working all as beads ("superbead" option), work the nupps only, the beads only, or none at all, and again combine these with options in the corner chart, to produce a simple lace edge or indulge your taste for glam.

Square Shawl

The charts show only odd rounds (patterned).
Even Rounds: K all, remembering to k7tog-tbl in the nupp motifs if you are working a nupp version.

Triangle Shawl

The charts show only odd rows (RS).
On R1, decrease one stitch at each side by k2tog the garter selvedge stitches, so only one selvedge stitch remains at each side.
RS rows: k1, * Knit Right Chart x1, 5 Center Chart x5 (add an extra repeat per each additional repeat of USA2 if you did any), Left Chart x1*, Corner Chart x1, Repeat * to * once more, k1.
WS rows: Purl all, remembering to p7tog in the nupp motifs if you are working a nupp version
