- Toggle clasp
- Fabric cement
- Tapestry needle

CO 24 (S), 28 (M), 32 (L) stitches using a knitted cast-on, leaving about a 8 inch tail

Row7: Purl
Row8: BO knitwise, cut yarn leaving about 6 inches

The knitted strip will curl in on itself with the purl side out. Weave in one end to the middle of the bracelet, then up and out the end. Thread the end of the cast on tail into the first piece of a toggle clasp. Weave the yarn back into the same place it came out and then weave in side to side to secure. Cut yarn. Repeat instructions for other side of the bracelet.

I use a tiny bit of fabric cement to secure the cut ends after weaving. I also use fabric cement to bind the bracelet together where the sides curl in to give the bracelet more sturdiness.
