Instructions

K: Knit
P: Purl
K2tog: Knit two stitches together like they are one
K2tog tbl: Knit two stitches together like they are one through the back
YO: yarn forward creating a loop on your needle
Sl 1: slip one stitch like knitting
PSSO: pass a slipped stitch over a knit stitch and off the needle k1fbf: knit one through the front, back, and front of one stitch, making three stitches out of one stitch k1fb: Knit a stitch through the front and back of one stitch, making two stitches out of one.

This pattern comes in two sizes: a small size, for a 5-6.5 inch wrist, and a large size for a 6.6-7.5 inch wrist. For the large size, please go up to size 5mm knitting needles. The small size uses 4.5mm needles.

These gloves are supposed to have .5 to 1 inch of negative ease in order to showcase the lace properly. When knitting with 4.5mm needles, my gauge was 4.5 stitches an inch. My palm is 8 inches and the gloves have .5 inches of negative ease on my hand. My wrist is 6 inches.

You will need:

- 135 yards/60g of worsted weight yarn to makes 2 gloves, or 1 pair. I had some left over but you might want to make yours longer/ shorter
- Size 4.5mm double pointed knitting needles or magic loop needle
- A size 5.5mm knitting needle for binding off
- One small piece of worsted weight scrap yarn for the thumb.
- Yarn needle for weaving in ends.

Pattern
in the round

1) Cast on 28 stitches on three double pointed knitting needles using a stretchy cast on (like crochet or long tail). I put 12 on one needle, 8 on the next, and 8 on the last. Join in the round.

2) [K2, P2] until work measures two inches.

3) If you are making your gloves in two colors, now is the time to switch.

Knit two rounds with new color. At this point I divide my stitches up so 7 is on the first needle, 7 on the second, and 14 on the last, so that I start each needle at the beginning of a lace repeat. Helps me not get lost!

4) Now we will began lace paneling.

R1: (k2, k2tog, yo, k3) four times
R2: (k1, k2tog, yo, k1, yo, k2togtbl, k1) four times
R3: (K2tog, yo, k3, yo, sl 1, k1, psso) four times
R4: knit all stitches
R5: (yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k5) four times
R6: k1, yo, k2togtbl, k2, k2tog, yo) four times
R7: (k2, yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k2tog, yo, k1) four times
R8: knit all stitches

Now we are going to add the thumb.

R1: k2, k2tog, yo, k2, k1fb (k2, k2tog, yo, k3) three times
R2: k1, k2tog, yo, k1, yo, k2togtbl, k2 (k1, k2tog, yo, k1, yo, k2togtbl, k1) three times *
R3: K2tog, yo, k3, yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k1fbf, (K2tog, yo, k3, yo, sl 1, k1, psso) three times
R4: knit all stitches
R5: yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k5, k1fb, k1, k1fb (yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k5) three times
R6: k1, yo, k2togtbl, k2, k2tog, yo, k5, (k1, yo, k2togtbl, k2, k2tog, yo) three times
R7: k2, yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k2tog, yo, k1, k1fb, k3, k1fb (k2, yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k2tog, yo, k1) three times
R8: knit all stitches
R9: k2, k2tog, yo, k3 k1fb, k5, k1fb, (k2, k2tog, yo, k3) three times
R10: k1, k2tog, yo, k1, yo, k2togtbl, k1, k9, (k1, k2tog, yo, k1, yo, k2togtbl, k1) three times
R11: K2tog, yo, k3, yo, sl 1, k1, psso, SLIP next 9 stitches to scrap yarn. (K2tog, yo, k3, yo, sl 1, k1, psso) 3 times See page 9 for a picture walkthrough of this step.

Pattern
in the round pt 2

R12: knit all stitches
R13: (yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k5) four times
R14: k1, yo, k2togtbl, k2, k2tog, yo) four times
R15: (k2, yo, sl 1, k1, psso, k2tog, yo, k1) four times
R16: knit all stitches
R17: knit all stitches

R18: Switch back to other color of yarn. Knit all stitches with new color. I also put my rearrange my stitches for easy ribbing by putting 8 on one needle, 8 on the next and 12 on the last.

Now (K2, P2) for 6 rounds and bind off with a 5.5mm knitting needle.

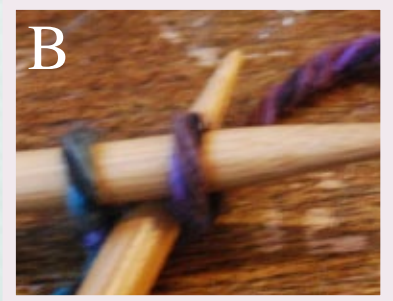
Go back and pick up thumb stitches. I put four on one needle and 5 on a second, then pick up four stitches on the back of the work, knitting in the round until thumb is a long as I want. I did four rounds then bound off. See page 10 for a picture walkthrough.

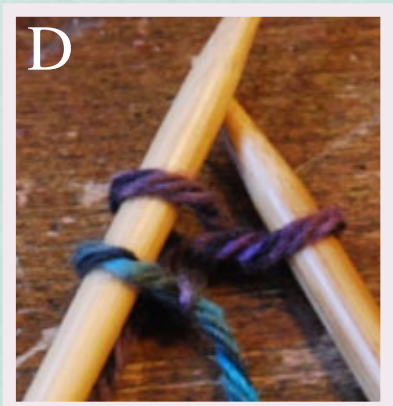
Weave in all ends.

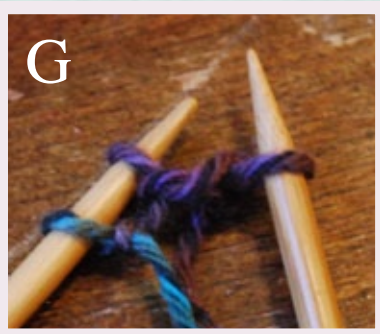
Make two and wear.

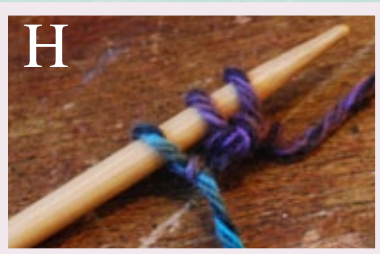
Casting On

The Crochet Cast-On









1) Start off with a slip knot and a normal stitch on your needle (A).

2) Put your second needle in between the stitches (B) The needle should be against the other needle, with the yarn below it.

3) (C) Yarn over with your working yarn (NOT the tail)

4) Pull this yarn over through the two stitches. (D)

5) Yarn over on your second needle (NOT using tail) (E)

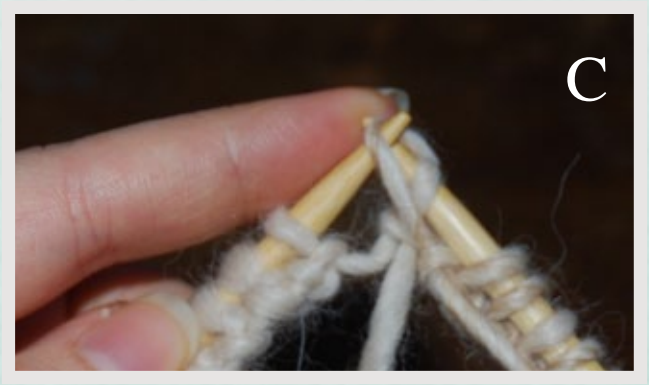
6) Now slip your first needle under the stitch on your second needle (F) and pull it over the yarn over that is also on your second needle, leaving the yarn over on the second needle (G)

7) You have now formed that third stitch. Slip it on to your left needle (H) and repeat from step 2 (B) to form more stitches.

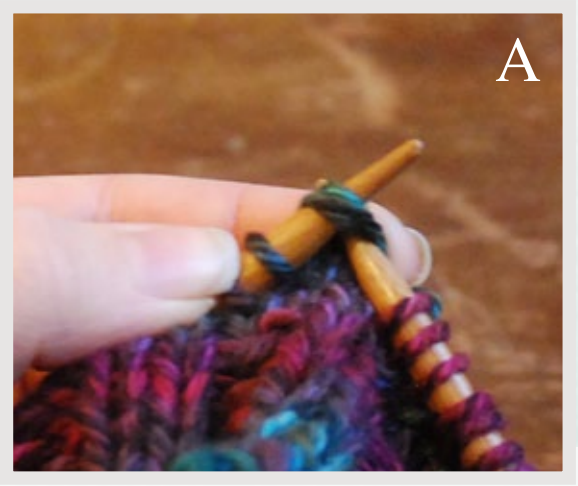
*many use a crochet hook to do this, but I don't.

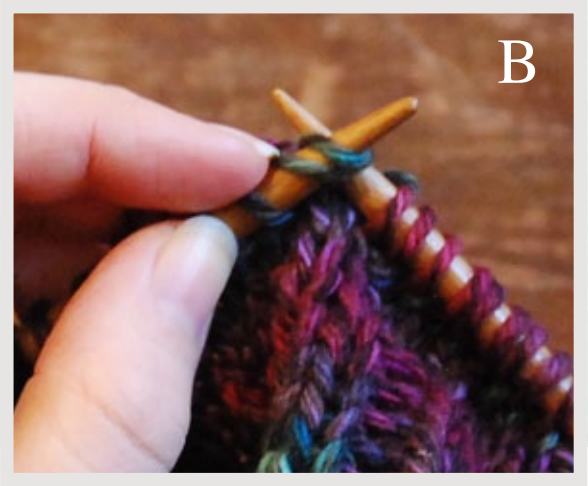
Joining in Round

1) Cast on ONE extra stitch
2) Make sure your working yarn is coming off the right needle.
3) Take first stitch on left needle and pass as if to purl onto the right needle
4) Now take what was the first stitch but is now the second stitch on the right needle and pass it OVER that stitch you just slipped, and off the needle. (like a PSSO)
5) Pull your tails and working yarn to make it tight. Done!



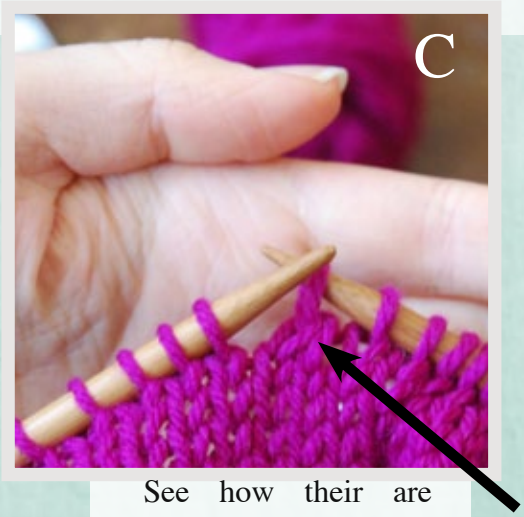
K2tog





K2Tog means to knit two stitches together like they are one stitch. (A) You simply knit through two stitches like it is one. See how I make sure I have two stitches close together (B) and knit into them like they are a single stitch?

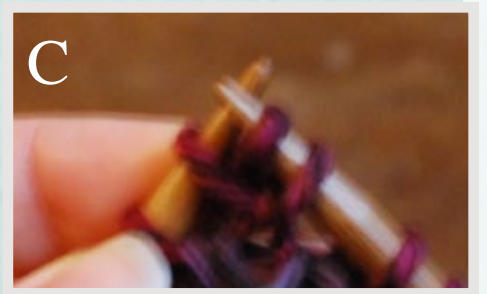
This will leave only one stitch on your right needle when you are done. (C) and it makes a little “lean” (D) when finished.



See how their are two loops on the end of this stitch? This is a finished K2tog.

Placing a lot of k2tog on top of each other in rows or rounds will create this leaning effect in the finished knitted product.

K1fb



This is an increase stitch. It takes one stitch and makes it into two stitches.

1) Start off by knitting into the live stitch on your left, working needle: BUT don't slide the stitch off your left needle yet like a regular knit stitch. (A)

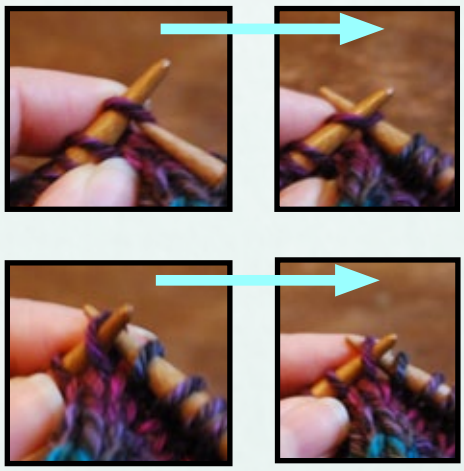
2) Knit again though this same stitch by taking your right needle and placing it behind the left needle (B) and knitting. Now you have two stitches on your right needle and the one stitch you knit into twice on your left needle (C)

3) Drop stitch three off your left needle (D) The back-knit stitch sort of looks like a purl stitch, see?

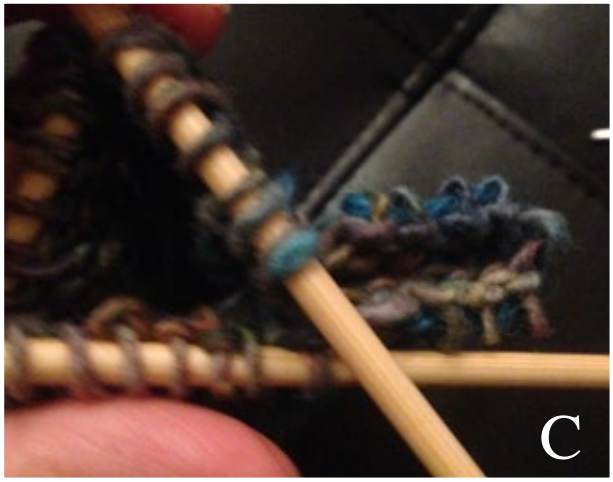
Extra Explanation:

You usually knit like this: by going front to back.

However, when knitting through the back loop (KTBL) you slide your needle and knit like this: always staying behind the stitch.



Thumb



On round 11 you will start off by doing this: K2tog, yo, k3, yo, sl 1, k1, psso.

Now, SLIP the next 9 stitches to scrap yarn by using a yarn needle threaded with a piece of worsted scrap yarn about 8 inches long. Slide the yarn needle as if to purl, (A) place the next 9 stitches on your scrap yarn (B)

I like to tie a knot in my scrap yarn when I am finished to make sure none of my stitches are going to escape. (C)

Now, (K2tog, yo, k3, yo, sl 1, k1, psso) 3 times being sure to pull tightly in your first K2tog stitch.

Thumb 2

After you have knit the entire glove, we will finish the thumb. Undo your scrap yarn, (A) and place half of the stitches on one double pointed 4.5mm knitting needle, and half on another double point (B) I did 4 on one 5 on the other needle.

Now, pick up four stitches on the back with your third double point. (C) Knit four rounds, then try on your glove to see if thumb is as long as desired. If not, keep knitting, checking thumb every round. Bind off when thumb is long enough. I bound off after 4 rows. (D)

Sometimes small holes can appear where you picked up stitches. Weave your ends in to fill in these tiny holes, if you have any.
