Jolly Roger is a lace shawl with a dark sense of humour. It has the elegancy of traditional lace shawls combined with modern twist. It's shape is half-circular and it's knitted from the center of neck outwards. The lace motif in the border chart has a little skull, which was specially designed for this project and not found in any other design.

Technical Information

- The charts do not include three stitch garter stitch border.

- If you are using stitch markers between the lace motifs, you will have to move them on rows 17, 21, 25, 29, 33 and 37.

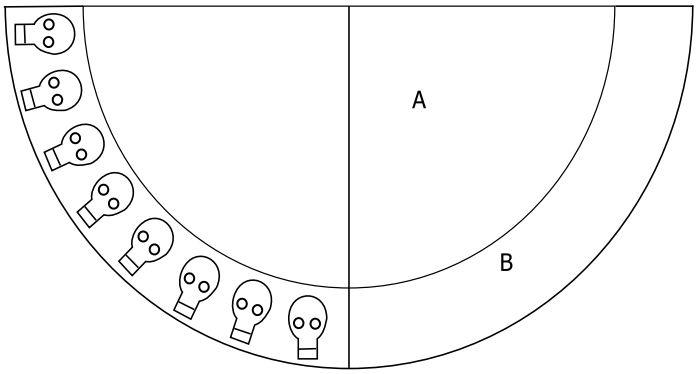
- If you want to knit a shallower version of the shawl, cast on 166 stitches (160 + 6 border stitches), knit 4 rows and start following the directions on row 70. Continue following the directions normally to the end of the pattern.

- On wrong side rows knit the first three and the last three stitches and purl all other stitches, unless the instructions tell you otherwise.

- Exact gauge is not important. Do note that a looser gauge will result in the use of more yardage and a bigger shawl.

Structure

This shawl is half-circular and has a stockinette body and lace border with skulls. It's knitted from the center of the neck and outwards and there is a garter stitch border formed by always knitting the first three and the last three stitches. The method of knitting the shape is from Mary Thomas' Book of Knitting Patterns and it's based on increasing stitches in every few rows. The instructions for the stockinette body are written but the increases made in the stockinette part of the shawl are also summarized in the table below. The stitch counts in the table do not include the 6 border stitches.



A = stockinette section
B = lace section

Body

Garter Stitch Tab Set Up

CO 3 sts provisionally using scrap yarn. Knit 9 rows with main color. Do not turn the work around but rotate 90 degrees clock-wise, place marker, pick up and knit 4 sts from the garter stitch edge of the piece, place marker, undo provisional cast-on and knit the 3 live sts. (10 sts)

The stitch markers separate the garter stitch border from the body of the shawl. The instructions below (including the stitch counts) exclude the garter stitch border. In order to knit the shawl, knit the first three stitches (to the first marker), follow the instructions below to the second marker and knit the last three stitches. Do this on both RS and WS rows.

Using main color:
Row 1 and all other odd rows are purled unless otherwise specified.
Row 2: kfb into every stitch 8 sts
Row 4: Knit 8 sts
Row 6: Kfb into every stitch 16 sts
Rows 8 and 10: Knit

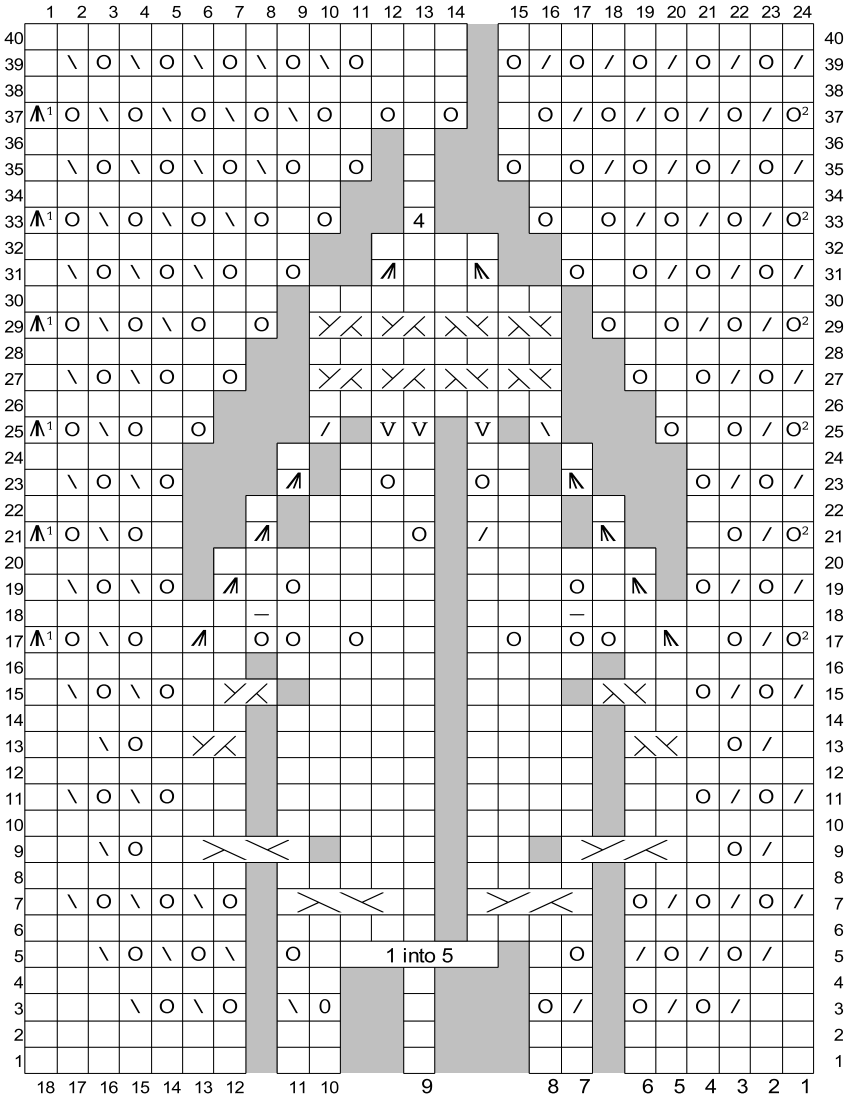
Border

Using second color:

Knit rows 1-40 of the chart once. You should have 16 repeats of the chart on each row.

Bind off loosely, wash and block. Shape the skulls gently while blocking if needed.



[2] = on the first repeat replace yo with k

[1] =on the last repeatreplace s2kp with ssk

If you are using stitch markers between the motifs, you need to move them on the rows 17, 21, 25, 29, 33 and 37.
